SPECTATOR, No. 594.

——Abſentem qui rodit amicum,
Qui non defendit, alio culpante; ſolutos
Qui captat riſus hominum famamque dicacis,
Fingere qui non viſa poteſt, commiſſa tacere
Qui nequit, hic niger eſt: hunc tu Romane caveto. Hor.

WERE all the Vexations of Life put together, we ſhould find that a great Part of them proceed from thoſe Calumnies and Reproaches which we ſpread abroad concerning one another.

THERE is ſcarce a Man living who is not in ſome Degree, guilty of this Offence; tho', at the ſame time, however we treat one another, it muſt be confeſſed, that we all conſent in ſpeaking ill of the Perſons who are notorious for this Practice. It generally takes its Riſe either from an Ill-will to Mankind, a private Inclination to make our ſelves eſteemed, an Oſtentation of Wit, and Vanity of being thought in the Secrets of the World, or from a Deſire of gratifying any of theſe Diſpoſitions of Mind in thoſe Perſons with whom we converſe.

THE Publiſher of Scandal is more or leſs odious to Mankind, and criminal in himſelf, as he is influenced by any one or more of the foregoing Motives. But whatever may be the Occaſion of ſpreading theſe falſe Reports, he ought to conſider, that the Effect of them is equally prejudicial and pernicious to the Perſon at whom they are aimed. The Injury is the ſame, tho' the Principle from whence it proceeds may be different.

AS every one looks on himſelf with too much Indulgence, when he paſſes a Judgment on his own Thoughts or Actions, and as very few would be thought guilty of this abominable Proceeding, which is ſo univerſally practiſed, and at the ſame time, ſo univerſally blamed, I ſhall lay down three Rules by which I would have a Man examine and ſearch into his own Heart before he ſtands acquitted to himſelf of that evil Diſpoſition of Mind which I am here mentioning.

Firſt of all, LET him conſider, Whether he does not take Delight in hearing the Faults of others.

Secondly, WHETHER he is not too apt to believe ſuch little blackening Accounts, and more inclined to be credulous on the uncharitable than on the good-natured Side?

Thirdly, WHETHER he is not ready to ſpread and propagate ſuch Reports as tend to the Diſreputation of another?

THESE are the ſeveral Steps by which this Vice proceeds, and grows up into Slander and Defamation.

IN the firſt Place, A Man who takes Delight in hearing the Faults of others, ſhows ſufficiently that he has a true Reliſh of Scandal, and conſequently the Seeds of this Vice within him. If his Mind is gratified with hearing Reproaches which are caſt on others, he will find the ſame Pleaſure in relating them, and be the more apt to do it, as he will naturally imagine every one he converſes with is delighted in the ſame manner with himſelf. A Man ſhould endeavour therefore to wear out of his Mind this criminal Curioſity, which is perpetually heightened and inflamed by liſtening to ſuch Stories as tend to the Diſreputation of others.

IN the ſecond Place. A Man ſhould conſult his own Heart, Whether he be not apt to believe ſuch blackening Accounts; and more inclined to be credulous on the uncharitable, than on the good-natured Side.

SUCH a Credulity is very vicious in it ſelf, and generally ariſes from a Man's Conſciouſneſs of his own ſecret Corruptions. It is a pithy Saying of Thales, Falſhood is juſt as far diſtant from Truth, as the Ears are from the Eyes. By which he would intimate, that a wiſe Man would not eaſily give Credit to the Reports of Actions which he has not ſeen. I ſhall under this Head, mention two or three remarkable Rules to be obſerved by the Members of the celebrated Abbey de la Trape, as they are publiſhed in a little Book.

THE Fathers are there ordered, never to give an Ear to any Accounts of baſe or criminal Actions; to turn off all ſuch Diſcourſe if poſſible; but in Caſe they hear any thing of this Nature ſo well atteſted that they cannot disbelieve it, they are then to ſuppoſe that the criminal Action may have proceeded from a good Intention in him who is guilty of it. This is perhaps carrying Charity to an Extravagance, but it is certainly much more laudable, than to ſuppoſe, as the ill-natured Part of the World does, that indifferent, and even good Actions, proceed from bad Principles and wrong Intention.

IN the third Place, A Man ſhould examine his Heart, whether he does not find in it a ſecret Inclination to propagate ſuch Reports, as tend to the Diſreputation of another.

WHEN the Diſeaſe of the Mind, which I have hitherto been ſpeaking of, ariſes to this Degree of Malignity, it diſcovers its ſelf in its worſt Symptom, and is in danger of becoming incurable. I need not therefore inſiſt upon the Guilt in this laſt Particular, which every one cannot but diſapprove, who is not void of Humanity, or even common Diſcretion. I ſhall only add, that whatever Pleaſure any Man may take in ſpreading Whiſpers of this Nature, he will find an infinite greater Satisfaction in conquering the Temptation he is under, by letting the Secret die within his own Breaſt.

From the St. James's Evening Poſt Nov. 6.

WARSAW, Octob. 24.

THE Reinforcement of Ruſſian Troops expected by the Way of Smolensko, are arriv'd on the other ſide the Viſtula, together with the heavy Artillery. The Ruſſian Army including 15000 Coſſacks, 3000 Calmucks and 2000 Huſſars conſiſts of 53,200 Men; beſides which there is a Body of 8000 regular regular Troops, 12000 Coſſacks and 5000 Calmucks, waiting on the Borders of the Kingdom, to be call'd in caſe of Need. We are aſſur'd, that General Lacy intends forthwith to detach a Body of his Troops to find the Poliſh General and give him Battle, after which they are to take poſſeſſion of Poliſh Pruſſia, and then march to Dantzick. The Ruſſians pay ready Money for all they want, but the Eſtates of the Noblemen who are in King Staniſlaus's Intereſt, are obliged to furniſh a double Quantity of Proviſions and Forage to thoſe of other Lords.

Vienna, Octob. 28. The Saxon Miniſters have notify'd the Election of their Maſter to all the Foreign Miniſters, except the French: This laſt Gentleman was firſt forbid the Court, then order'd to ſee no Foreign Miniſter, and laſtly confin'd to his own Houſe, under which Confinement his Excellency is to continue till the Emperor thinks proper to ſend him home. Moſt of the States of the Empire concur with his Imperial Majeſty in carrying on the War againſt France.

Dublin, Octob. 30. On Saturday laſt the Wife of one Mr. Brain, a Tallow Chandler in Big-Ship-ſtreet, was happily delivered of two Sons and a Daughter, who are all in Health, and likely to live.

Milan, Octob. 31. The French and Sardinian Troops having ſate down before Vigevano, which is the firſt fortified Town of the Milaneſe on the Side of Piedmont, the Garriſon made a ſtout Defence for three days, but on the 27th the Governor beat the Chamade and ſurrender'd. On the 18th the combin'd Troops enter'd the Place to the Number of 1200; the Inhabitants are laid under a Contribution of 10,000 Piſtoles. Since the taking of that Place the Army divided into three Bodies; one march'd towards Novara, another towards Tortona, and a third towards the Fort of Suentes. We have a report, that the Imperialiſts have ſeiz'd on the Po ſeveral Barks, with about 10,000 Sacks of Wheat, belonging to the King of Sardinia, which will be of infinite Service at this Juncture.

The French are already arming out ſeveral Veſſels to take all Ships under Imperial Colours, and they have already taken above 30 Sail at Onelia, Nice and Villafranca.

Paris, Nov. 14. The King of Sardinia, who departed the 29th from Turin, to command the Army, arriv'd the ſame Day at Vigevano, whither the Kings Troops and his own, which lay under Verceil, Mortara and Alexandria, march'd together. That Prince after detaching two Bodies of Troops to form the Blockade of Tortona and Novara, march'd himſelf to inveſt Pavia, when a Deputation from that City came, and brought him the Keys of the ſaid City and Caſtle; and the Marquis d'Aix, whom his Sardinian Majeſty choſe to command in that Place, found that three Battalions of the Imperial Troops had quitted it, leaving many thouſand Weight of Powder, great Quantities of other Ammunition and 35 Pieces of Cannon. The King of Sardinia advancing towards Pavia, receiv'd from the Senate and City of Milan a Deputation, and commanded the Marquis de Coigny, a Lieutenant General, with 9000 Men, to ſecure that Capital, and form the Blockade of the Citadel. The Army was to be at Pavia the 5th Inſtant, and the King of Sardinia reckon'd to reach Pizigiatone the next Day.

London, Nov. 1. The Commiſſioners for Victualling his Majeſty's Navy having contracted for 1200 Oxen and 6000 Hogs, moſt of which are already delivered, they are buſy at the Victualling-Office on Tower-Hill killing them: And as this Contract is the largeſt that has been known ſince the Wars of Queen Anne, People judge that a conſiderable Fleet will be fitted out againſt next Spring, perhaps for the Purpoſe of aſſiſting the Emperour, purſuant to a Treaty of Neutrality for Italy, if the French and Spaniards perſiſt in their Deſigns againſt his Imperial Majeſty's Dominions there.

At a Meeting on the 18th of Octob. laſt of the Truſtees for Georgia, the Seal of that Colony was affix'd to a Treaty of Alliance, Friendſhip and Commerce, between the Engliſh and Lower Creek Nation of Indians, which is to continue as long as the Sun doth ſhine and the Water run in the Rivers, it being ſo expreſs'd in the Articles. This Week a Ship will Sail for Holland, to embark about 60 Families of Saltzburghers at Rotterdam for Georgia, out of the 10,000 l. Charity granted by Parliament.

Nov. 16. On Wedneſday about three a Clock in the Afternoon his Highneſs the Prince of Orange landed at Tower Wharf, and proceeded through the City in one of the Kings Coaches, amidſt the general Acclamations of a numerous Crowd of People, Bells ringing, and other Marks of Joy.

On Thurſday in the Afternoon his Highneſs went from Sommerſet Houſe to St. James's, was received by his Grace the Duke of Grafton and the Earl of Grantham, and introduced into his Majeſty's Apartments, where his Highneſs was conducted to his firſt Interview with their Majeſties and the Prince of Wales.

We hear that the Peers and Peereſſes will be ſummoned by Circular Letters to attend the Solemnity of the Princeſs Royal's Marriage; and that the Princeſs Royal will be led to the Altar by his Grace William Duke of Portland, and the Right Hon. Spencer Earl of Wilmington, both Batchelors; and back again by his Grace Charles Duke of Richmond, and the Right Hon. William Anne Earl of Albemarle, both married.

The Duke of Grafton is to bear the Sword of State to the Chappel, and the Lord Biſhop of London is to perform the Ceremony of Marriage.

We hear from Paris, that the moſt Chriſtian King has given orders for fitting out a Squadron of 30 Ships of the Line, to be employ'd on a particular Expedition.

Charleſtown,

Charleſtown, March 2. On the 23d laſt paſt in the morning, one Martin Dunn, belonging to his Majeſty's Ship the Alborough, happened to be with Benjamin Story in his Periauger in the Northern Branch of Store River, and ſtriking at an Alligator, fell over board and down to the Ground immediately: No doubt but the Alligator made a good breakfaſt on him.

We have by the laſt Advice from Purrysburgh an account of the noble Effects the Climate of that Colony has produced: There is ſix Couples embarked thence for Savannah in Georgia, to be join'd in the holy State of Martrimony, and half a dozen pair more preparing themſelves for the ſame.

To His Excellency Governor Johnſon,
The humble Petition of all the Maids whoſe Names are under-written.

WHERE AS we the humble Petitioners are at preſent in a very melancholly Diſpoſition of Mind, conſidering how all the Batchelors are blindly captivated by Widows, and our more youthful Charms thereby neglected, the Conſequence of this our Requeſt is, that your Excellency will for the future order, that no Widow ſhall preſume to marry any young Man till the Maids are provided for, or elſe to pay each of them a Fine for Satisfaction, for invading our Liberties, and likewiſe a Fine to be laid on all ſuch Batchelors as ſhall be married to Widows. The great Diſadvantage it is to us Maids is, that the Widows by their forward Carriages do ſnap up the young Men, and have the Vanity to think their Merits beyond ours, which is a great Impoſition upon us, who ought to have the Preference.

This is humbly recommended to your Excellency's Conſideration, and hope you will prevent any further Inſults.

And we poor Maids as in duty bound will ever pray.

P. S. I ----- being the oldeſt Maid, and therefore moſt concerned, do think it proper to be the Meſſenger to your Excellency, in behalf of my Fellows Subſcribers.

[Was ſigned by ſixteen Maids, and delivered to the Governor Yeſterday at the Feaſt.]

New-York, March 11. 1733-4.

On the the 6th Inſt. arrived here the Ship Catharine, Capt. Farmer from Madera. It is wrote from thence of the ſecond of Feb. N. S. that a Ship (Capt. Chriſtopher Brooks*) was juſt arrived there from* Gibralter, with News that Milan and the Citadel and two Places on the other Side of the Rhine are taken. The Dutch neuter; The King of Pruſſia undetermined; Great Britain not declared. Staniſlaus at Dantzick threatned by the Czarina; and all the Sally men deſtroyed except one who is kept in by our Cruizers.

Three Sally men in a dark Night in a Levant were puſhed out, undiſcovered by the Cruizers, and took four Engliſh Veſſels; but were met by two of the Cruizing Men of War, one Engliſh and the other Dutch: The Engliſh Man of War retook the four Prizes, and the Dutch Man of War took the three Sally men.

New-York, March 11. This Day a Sloop arrived in 14 Days from Bermuda, Capt. Burrow, Maſter, who ſays, a Brigantine arrived there (three Days before he ſailed thence) from London in five Weeks and three days paſſage, with News of an Accommodation between the Emperor, France, and the contending Parties, and that all the Preliminaries of a Peace were agreed to, and only wanted a Ratification: What thoſe Preliminaries were he knows not, but that Staniſlaus was to be King of Poland for his Life. All was Peace and Quiet at home.

Boſton, March 4. By Capt. Draper from Lisbon, in about 7 Weeks Paſſage to Newport, Rhode-Iſland, we are inform'd, That three Days before he left Lisbon, a Dutch Man of War of 20 Guns arrived there from the Coaſt of Sallee to Careen, with Advice that Commodore Cornwall of the Durſley Galley, had ſunk a Sallee Man of 28 Guns after 4 Hours Engagement, and all the Company Killed or Drowned. That the Roſe Man of War had ſunk another Sallee Man of 24 Guns on the Bar of Sallee. That a Brig. came out in Company with two Sallee Men, but got in again, which before had taken ſeveral Veſſels amongſt the reſt, two Brigantines belonging to Pool; afterwards retaken by a Portugueze Man of War, and brought into Lisbon with no Body on board but 12 Moors in one and 10 in the other. That there was a Row Galley from Tetuan, about 90 Men in Company, who chaſing two Veſſels ran aſhore by them in a Bay about 6 Leagues to the Eaſtward of Gibraltar, and were all taken Priſoners by the Spaniards. That a certain Captain of a Sloop ſailed from Connecticut to Lisbon not long ago, took in a Freight from thence for London, and upon his Arrival the Capt. delivered up to the Owners the Veſſel, but marcht off with 1200 Piſtoles.

Mr. Franklin,

Mr. Franklin,

If you inſert theſe few following Lines in your Gazette, I do not doubt but they will be very well accepted by ſome of your Readers.

THIS Town would quickly be reclaim'd
If Drams no more had Vent;
And all the Sorts that could be nam'd,
To Strombolo were ſent.

If none did Tiff, or Sampſon mix,
And Punch were quite rejected,
And all the Rum thrown into Styx,
The Work would be perfected.

For Brewers Skill is moſtly ſuch,
Their Art is ſo Divine,
Scarce any one would drink too much,
Except a Goat, or Swine.

Yours, R. W.
